2. Ask them to draw one flower on each side of the cube, one for each colour (yellow, blue, green, purple, pink, orange).
3. Help students glue the sides of the cube together.
4. Prepare a set of letters to use each time.

5. Have students pick a letter without showing it to the class. Then, ask them to roll the cube and follow the action that matches the colour of the flower. The rest of the class can guess the letter.
e.g. If a student gets yellow, they should write the letter in the air.

Note: The cube can be used in every lesson for extra multisensory practice.
